

Defining Success*Thursday, 9/17/20, 3-4 PMSeptember

The first step in being a successful student? Know what it means to be a successful student. In this seminar you will reflect on your decision to attend college, what you want your experience at Mercer to look like, and what qualities you want to embody while you are here.

Hit the Books: Academic Grit & Grind*Friday, 10/15/20, 3-4 PMOctober

You were admitted to Mercer because you are capable of achieving success here. But keeping that GPA up is not always easy. We'll get real about the challenge of doing your best in classes, what to do when you don't do your best, and the tools that are available to help you keep improving.

Mixed Messages*Friday, 11/19/20, 10-10:50 AMNovember

By now, you've probably received a lot of advice about college success from a lot of people who care about you. How do you sort through from different directions and identify what makes sense for you? In this workshop, we will sort through some of those mixed messages together so that you are prepared with a clear vision for your own personal success.

 End-of-Semester Social with Mentors
*Friday, December 6 at 10 AMDestination: Future ... and special January Kickoff!Thursday, 1/23/21, 5:30-6:30 PMJanuary

Wouldn't it be nice if you could use Google Maps to find a clear, bump-free route to get to your future? All of us encounter roadblocks and winding routes as we make our way toward our careers, but smart Bears prepare themselves for that journey. In this workshop we'll talk about careers, jobs, internships, and the paths & resources available as you navigate each one.

168 Hours*Friday, 2/4/21, 3-4 PMFebruary

Each week contains 168 hours. Successful students allocate those hours toward their priorities and leverage their limited time toward achieving goals. In this workshop we'll discuss strategies for prioritization, and participants will connect with tools for improving time management.

#Relatable: A First-Gen Panel*Friday, 3/10/21, 10-10:50 AMMarch

Join us for an impactful discussion, as a panel of faculty, staff, and upperclassmen who identify as first-generation come and share their #relatable experiences.
